his home, 627 15th Ave. N. Born in Pennsylvania seventy-five years ago, Mr. Tripple was a graduate of Princeton University, having been a classmate of Woodrow Wilson. He came to Seattle from Philadelphia in 1888 and at once became active in civic affairs. He engaged in the real estate and insurance business and was one of the pioneers who aided in the reconstruction of Seattle after the fire of 1889.

Mr. Tripple was first elected to the Legislature from the 47th District in 1920 and served continuously through four regular and one special sessions. At the time of his death he was a candidate for renomination and election.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Carrie Dixon Tripple, with whom he Tuesday. BURLINGAME, Cal., June 17.—The blatant crow of the rooster, the gabbling of geese and the coo of the pigeon have been officially muted by Burlingame's city fathers.

In solemn conclave last night the City Council enacted an ordinance muting the vocal utterances of fowis and other barnyard residents, curtailing their number and restricting their wanderings. Owners who permit their charges to moo, bleat, crow, cackle, grunt, warble or snort where such noise disturbs neighbors in their sleep or otherwise are pun-
